SAN FRANCISCO IS IN HANDS OF MOB

Violence Marks Second Day of Street Railway Strike

Breakers and Union Men Engage in Battle When Company Attempts to Run Car.

SOLDIERS ARE CALLED OUT.

San Francisco, May 8.—One killed and 28 wounded are the total casualties of Tuesday's riots, following an attempt to move street cars. It is thought this record does not tell the full story, as some wounded were taken to their homes or private hospitals and so lost to view. Four were wounded and probably will die.

Soldiers Called Out.
Los Angeles, May 8.—Early this morning, acting under orders from Sacramento, the Seventh regiment of national guards was ordered under arms at once for service in San Francisco. The enlisted strength of the regiment is over 800.

San Francisco, May 8.—James Walsh, who was injured in the street car riot, died late last night.

San Francisco, May 8.—A pitched battle between strike breakers in the uniforms of car inspectors and strikers and their sympathizers was fought last evening on Turk street for more than an hour. Eight men were shot, among them a policeman and Detective Bell. Several of them will die.

The shooting was done by strike breakers from car windows, in response to a shower of paving stones and bricks hurled at them by a mob that chased the cars back after block picking up their wounded as they ran.

The deadly affray was the outcome of the first attempt of the United railroads to run passenger cars out of their Turk and Fillmore street barns at 2:30 p. m.

A reporter who rode on horseback behind a string of cars saw four men shot from the car windows. The first shot was fired at the intersection of Turk and Buchanan streets by a guard from the rear platform of the car that headed the string of seven. The bullet struck a young man standing on the curb and inflicted a flesh wound in his arm.

Guards Wounded by Stones.

A shot was not fired until most of the windows of the car had been smashed with stones several of which had struck and severely bruised some of the guards on board.

The shooting of this man aroused the mob to a pitch of frenzy. Paving stones and other obstructions were cast on the track and in that way the car was brought to a standstill a block further on.

Hurling any missile that came easiest to hand, cursing and screaming for the lives of the strike breakers, hundreds of men and boys surrounded the cars. In a moment a fusillade of shots rang out and the crowd fell back in fear. The obstructions were cleared away and the car proceeded followed by two others.

The sound of the shots apprised the main crowd in the neighborhood of Fillmore and Webster streets that a battle was on, and more than 1,000 men and boys came running down Turk street in pursuit of the strike breakers, who standing to their posts shot again and again into the crowds, indiscriminately, as repeated showers of stones struck and injured them.

Youth Shot Through Lungs.

At Van Ness avenue a youth was shot through the lungs. He pitched forward into the street, whence he was lifted and thrown onto a mattress in a furniture van and hurried to Emergency hospital. The mob, checked but not dismayed by the rain of bullets, kept on running in pursuit of the cars, stoning them and cursing the guards.

Just beyond Van Ness avenue the first squad of police arrived in a patrol wagon. The mob stoned them, too, but presently desisted on being implored not to do so by union pickets. The policemen tried to persuade the maddened crowd to disperse, but without effect. Three blocks further on the guards again turned loose their weapons on the crowd. In this fusillade a policeman was shot in the back, presumably by accident. None

PROMOTION COMES WHERE DESERVED

R. J. Turnbull Will Go to Shops at Memphis

Master Mechanic Will Be Succeeded
Here By the General Foreman,
J. H. Fulmer.

WILL MAKE CHANGE FRIDAY

Rumors that have been current for the past several weeks that Mr. R. J. Turnbull, master mechanic at the local shops of the Illinois Central railroad, was to be promoted, were verified this morning by a statement on authority. While no official notice has been received Mr. Turnbull has been informed that the officials contemplate placing him in Memphis as the master mechanic. The change will be effective May 15, although Mr. Turnbull will leave May 10. His family will not join him until some time in June.

Mr. Turnbull came here from Chicago three years ago and has made a most efficient official. He is a young man and the promotion is all the more pleasant to his friends.

Much speculation has been indulged in by employees of the railroad and others interested as to the probable successor to Mr. Turnbull. From the most reliable assurance he will be Mr. J. H. Fulmer, at present general foreman of the shops. This morning Mr. Fulmer stated he knew nothing more than the rumor, but the same source from which Mr. Turnbull's promotion comes, mentions Mr. Fulmer as the successor. No better election could be made as Mr. Fulmer has been connected with the shops for many years and the promotion is well deserved. As to the successor of Mr. Fulmer no one has been selected so far as given out.

FIRST DISTRICT MEETS
IN THIS CITY ON MAY 31.

S. J. Billington, county superintendent of schools, has issued a call for a meeting of the First Congressional District County Superintendents Association in his office May 31. It will be the second meeting of the association of which Mr. Billington is president, and questions of school policy will be discussed.

Joe Cannon Is 71.

Washington, D. C., May 8.—Speaker Cannon, who was born in North Carolina, May 7, 1836, was 71 years old today. The speaker is at his home in Danville, Ill., and plans to pass the greater part of the summer there in quiet.

ALDERMEN BOOM PALMER FOR MAYOR

It is Hinted That President of Upper Board Would Accept Nomination—Is Well Qualified for Honor

ALDERMAN HANK DECLINES.

There is no dearth of good men offering for the Republican nomination for mayor, and the interest increases each day. Alderman Harry Hank has told his friends that he cannot afford to take the office on account of his business. Today Alderman Earl Palmer looms on the political horizon as a possible candidate. He is the choice of his aldermanic colleagues, and the tip is going around that he is "in the hands of his friends."

Alderman Palmer is one of the strongest men in the Republican party in the city, and his natural ability and adaptability have been recognized and appreciated by Democrats and Republicans alike. As alderman has taken great interest in the legislative work, and would bring to the mayor's office great knowledge of the city's needs.

MOTION OVERRULED.

Boise, Idaho, May 8.—Judge Wood today denied the motion of counsel for Haywood, accused of complicity in the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, for a bill of particulars.

SEEN' THINGS.

Sometimes they're in the corner, sometimes they're by the door,
Sometimes they're all a-standin' in the middle uv the floor;
Sometimes they are a-sittin' down, sometimes they're walkin' round
So softly an' so creepypike they never make a sound!
Sometimes they are as black as ink, an' other times they're white—
But the color ain't no difference when you see things at night!—Eugene Field.

County Jail Under The Court House Is Plan of Magistrate Charles Emery

Could be Built for One-Third
Cost, Improve Appearance, be Handier, Safer and More
Roomy Than Other Way

HAS IDEA WORKED OUT

Magistrate C. W. Emery, discussing the project for a new jail for McCracken county, outlined a scheme that seems to have all the surface indications of feasibility, and the cost to the county would be less than under any other arrangement. He suggests that the jail be built under the court house and disclosed a well-digested plan as follows:

"We have investigated and found that a jail with a capacity of 138 prisoners in single cells, with a jailer's office, sanitary conveniences and absolute protection can be built under the court house at a cost of $20,000. We know that the present jail could be sold for $3,000, which would bring the cost for the new jail down to $17,000. The old jail has a capacity of only 40 in single cells, while the new one with 138 cells would serve the county for many years.

The new jail would be built after the plan of the four courts jail in St. Louis. By excavating probably 2 1/2 feet under the court house and raising the first floor three feet, a cellar ten feet deep could be made and still be above the water line. The ceiling of the jail which would be the floor of the court house, would be made of re-inforced cement and steel sheets. It would be noise proof, fire proof and burglar proof. The floor of the jail would be built

CONFEDERATES NAME DELEGATES

Probably 50 Confederate veterans will attend the reunion at Richmond, Va., May 30. Last night Walbert camp elected the following delegates: Joseph E. Potter, B. H. Scott, James Koger, W. H. Patterson; and alternates: R. M. Miles, Dr. D. G. Murrell, James Gish and William Bailey. Miss Kathleen Whitefield found it impossible to act as sponsor, and some one will be named in her place.

similarly and the walls would be a layer of half-inch steel and 12 inches of cement. This cement cannot be dented by an ordinary chisel. The ceiling of the jail would be supported by stone columns and the whole would be a subterranean chamber, at the top and bottom and on all sides incapable of being broken.

This new jail would be independent of any future construction on the ground. A new court house could be built over it at any time, and should the court house be destroyed by fire, no damage could result to the jail or occupants. The jail would be convenient to the court. To build a larger separate house on the grounds would be unsightly, while the old building could be sold leaving a park unbroken by extra houses. To build a new jail on an adequate scale, away from the court house, would cost $60,000. The building would cost $40,000 and the interior arrangement would cost $20,000."

Back to Arkansas as Fugitive Young Panky Wishes To Go

After lunching off the husks Collins a financial deal, in which the similarity of his own and his uncle's initials played an important part, appeared at the police headquarters today and said he wished to be taken back to Arkansas as a fugitive from justice. Mr. Panky has more time to spend with Chief Collins than he did in January, when he did not wait for the chief to straighten out the tangle of initials by telegraph. Young Panky said he had passed a check for $35 in Blytheville on the bank, with which his uncle, of the same initials, does business. The draft, which he presented to Chief Collins last January was on this same bank. In response to the chief's telegram of inquiry the bank informed him that J. W. Panky, Sr., did business there, and that J. W. Panky, Jr., had tried to.

SERIOUS STRIKE NOW PROMISED

No Change in Attitude of Carpenters and Painters and Contractors—Federation of Labor May Take Hand

OTHERS MIGHT BE INVOLVED.

What promises just now to be the bitterest strike in the history of labor in Paducah is on among carpenters and painters, both of whom have been receiving 35 cents the hour, the former asking for 37 1/2 cents and the latter 40 cents the hour. Four of the larger contractors are holding out against the new scale, and over 100 carpenters, it is said, are employed by contractors, who have signed the scale. The crux of the situation is the attitude of the federation of labor. It is said the federation will stand behind the carpenters and painters in their struggle with money and influence. In case the federation takes charge of the situation and decides that a sympathetic strike of affiliated organizations is in order, nearly every union in Paducah, except possibly some at the railroad shops, might become involved and the local industries demoralized. National officers will arrive this week to take charge of the strike.

FIRST NATIONAL CONTRACT READY

Contract for the construction of the First National bank's ten-story building at Third street and Broadway will be let in a few days to the Southern Construction company, of St. Louis the lowest bidder. It is stated. The bid was $23,500. A number of perplexing details have arisen since the bids were opened to delay progress, but they are slowly being disposed of.

CITY PROPERTY DISAPPEARING

Many Reports That Articles
Are Mysteriously Missing

Horses Get Out and Material Takes Flight in Most Unaccountable Manner.

NO CLEW LEFT BY CRIMINALS

Sherlock Holmes had one of his hardest cases in tracing a criminal who escaped notice from the police by boarding near their headquarters. They looked everywhere but right at hand. Within easy ear-shot and right under the nose of the Paducah police department, deprivations of city property have been going on for months. No great amount of property has been missed at any one time, but in the aggregate, the loss from this source has been expensive. But the failure of the police headquarters to awe the thieves is seen in the city hall itself and within twenty feet of the chief of police's office, as not a pencil, penholder, eraser, or any office appurtenances can be left unlocked overnight.

These facts were stated in the meeting of the board of public works yesterday afternoon. The city stables are just back of the city hall and it is there that most of the deprivations have occurred. City Auditor Kirkland testified that nothing could be left around at night in the city hall. Street Inspector Alonzo Elliott testified that he had missed many things from the stables and on two occasions in the last month had found the lock to the stable door forced open. Several hundred sacks were missed one morning. The coal house door was broken open and coal may have been stolen. The city stock has been found roaming the streets, having gotten out at night, and in the way of shovels and other small tools, they have been missed frequently.

No clew to the author of the mischief has been found by the street inspector and the patrolmen around headquarters have never caught any persons in the acts.

Not only in these two places does the city have property stolen. Superintendent Keebler of the city light plant, said he almost had to chain things to retain them, and the heads of other departments report the same tendency on the part of unscrupulous persons to appropriate city property at every opportunity.

The city stock may have been driven at night by the persons who broke open the doors by forcing out the staples which held the locks. But another theory of the broken locks may be from the cramped quarters of the horses. Some of the stalls are so short that the horses do not have 10 inches extra length space. A sudden movement backward by the horse easily might break the door open.

New quarters for the city stock probably will be secured on property owned by the city on North Sixth street. But what would happen if the city stables were isolated, asks Street Inspector Elliott?

SECRET SERVICE IN TRIGG COUNTY

Louisville, Ky., May 8.—Law-abiding citizens of Christian, Trigg and Caldwell counties have banded for the purpose of stopping barn burning and have employed T. J. Cundiff, T. B. Pedigo, deputy United States marshal, and a number of detectives, who will work under them. Cundiff and Pedigo will go to Hopkinsville tonight to begin their work. It is reported that citizens have raised about $1,000 for the purpose of stopping this form of lawlessness.

THE BASKET FACTORY MAY RESUME WORK NEXT WEEK.

Indications now are that the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket company, over which W. P. Hummel recently was appointed receiver by the federal court, will resume operations the first of the week. On account of complications, resulting from the suit, the receiver has been unable to command funds to start the work. Negotiations are now being made with the view of getting to work at once.

Great Fireworks Display.

The grandest pyrotechnical display ever witnessed in Paducah was successfully presented on the lake at Wallace park last night, the rain of the opening night having necessitated postponement. Several thousand people watched the display, as great wheels of light, cataracts of fire, patriotic emblems emblazoned on tabrets of flame; bombs and torpedoes in the heavens and floating mines on the lake, vied in glory, and reflected their splendor a thousand times in the shadowy waters.

The display came after the closing performance of "Fra Diavolo" by the Beggar Prince Opera company. The audience, which filled the Casino, was delighted with the performance. All the singers were in good voice, in spite of the weather, and the staging of the attraction was remarkable. Tonight "La Mascotte" will be the bill, being repeated Thursday night.

"Charley's Aunt."

"Charley's Aunt" will again be presented in this city at the Kentucky Monday night with Etienne Girardot in his original role, supported by a company said to be the best that has yet been seen in the great comedy. ## TEXTILE COMPANY

WILL PROCEED WITH $200,000
CAPITAL STOCK.

Mr. David Flournoy and Associates
Take 49 Per Cent of Stock for Patents.

Mr. David Flournoy, who purchased the interests of all the other local stockholders in the Textile company, yesterday transferred the patents of the company to the Ferguson Textile company, a new organization created to take over the business of the company. The Ferguson company is capitalized at $200,000, with $100,000 of preferred stock and $100,000 of common stock. Mr. Flournoy and some local associates received 49 per cent of the stock for their patent rights. The company is to engage in the manufacture of water proof garments. The patent has been pronounced by authorities, one of the best water-proof processes on the market, and the company is planning to do a great business. The plant for processing of cloths will be located in Paducah, at the old plant in Mechanicsburg, and work will be started as soon as all the details of organization have been arranged. The company takes its name from Mr. Forrest Ferguson, of the Ferguson-McKinnle Dry Goods company, of St. Louis, who formerly lived in Paducah. Mr. Ferguson visited Paducah a few weeks ago to investigate the patent and thought so much of it that he is putting $50,000 into the company.

Albany, N. Y., May 7.—Gov. Hughes has approved the Page child labor bill, desired by the child labor committee and the Consumers' League. It provides that no minor under sixteen years of age shall be employed or permitted to work in any factory in this state before 8 a. m. or after 5 p. m., or more than eight hours in any one day. The permitted hours are now 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., and a nine-hour day is permitted. The act will not take effect until January 1, 1908.

A New Back For An Old One—How It Is Done in Paducah.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Paducah citizen.

Mrs. Silas Jones, of 1148 North Thirtieth street, Paducah, Ky., says: "I have suffered severely with a lame and aching back. At times I felt as though I was hardly able to get around and often in the morning I would feel quite dizzy. I had known of Doan's Kidney Pills as my mother had used them years ago, so I procured them at Alvey & List's drug store, and began taking them as directed. They simply did wonders for me in relieving me of my suffering. I feel that I cannot say too much in their favor."

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Decoration Day at Fulton.

Fulton, Ky., May 8.—At its regular meeting held last night the city council named Sunday, May 26th as Decoration Day. It was stated that the Daughters of the Confederacy desired to decorate the graves of the Confederate dead upon the same day the other graves in the city cemetery were decorated and that they preferred Sunday, May 26th if that day suited the council. The council voted to accept that day and to invite the ministers of Fulton to arrange an appropriate program for the occasion.

This Is a Real Ltd.

Mayfield, Ky., May 8.—An ordinance was adopted by the general council that prevented the sale of most everything but hydrant water. It was to prevent the sale of bottled beverages with malt or anything except natural mineral waters or anything that contains alcohol in any form. The license are not transferable and the bottles must be sold for less than 10 cents a bottle and no cokes thrown in on the outside.

Bad Weather For Farmers.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—The report of the state commissioner of agriculture shows a rather discouraging condition of affairs for the farmers. The warm weather in March, followed by the cold April, says the report, has practically ruined all the early corn, and it has had to be replanted. Forward wheat is also considerably damaged, as is the oats crop. Peaches are practically ruined, while there is some damage to plums, cherries apples and other fruit. Tobacco plants are scarce and for the first time the "flea bug" has done some damage under canvas. The barley crop of 1906 will be about 90 per cent. of that of 1905, while in the dark district there is a falling off of about 8 per cent. The condition of grass and clover is fairly satisfactory.

IRISH BILL

IS PRESENTED BY GOVERNMENT TO THE COMMONS.

Is Not Long Step Toward Home Rule and Confers Little Self-Government.

London May 8.—The government today presented its long awaited Irish bill to the commons and country. The bill is designed to meet the demands for Irish home rule. It was presented by chief secretary for Ireland Birrell.

Compared with the home rule bills of 1886 and 1906 the measure today confers little self-government upon Ireland merely giving to the council control of eight departments now managed by government boards. The council is to be appointed by the crown and, while the lord lieutenant of Ireland is given power to nullify its measures the crown retains control of five of the eight departments, including the constabulary. The control of this branch always has been a thorn in the flesh of the Irish people.

London's Famous Milk Supply

Washington, May 8.—The population of London consume less milk per capita than that of any American city. The consumption is between 500,000 and 600,000 gallons per day, which is an average of from two-tenths to five-tenths of a pint per day among the well-to-do classes, while among the poor the average daily consumption is less than one-tenth of a pint. Medical men attribute the apparent deterioration of the British race to this, among other causes, chief of which is the high consumption of gin, beer and other liquors. The working classes of London drink more liquor than milk and the gin and beer habit prevails more generally among the women in London and other of the large cities of England than in any other country in the world.

There are 4,102,000 milch cows in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, which yield an average of 400 gallons per year each, making a total of 1,600,000,000 gallons of milk per year. This is an average of only 36 gallons per year for every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom, or less than half a pint a day. When the amount of milk used in dairies for butter and cheese and for other purposes is deducted, the average will be reduced to a very small allowance.

The milk supply of London comes from all parts of England and Wales and is brought by railway in ordinary cars in large tin cans similar to those used in the United States. It is handled very much the same way as it is here except that it is brought a greater distance some of it as far as 423 miles. The average distance is 180 miles. Refrigerator cars are almost unknown, and only a very small part of the supply is shipped that way.

During the summer the cows are kept in pastures upon very rich grass. England has the finest pastures in the world. The turf is thick, the grass is full of nourishment and the moisture of the climate keeps it green longer than is usual in any other country. During the winter the cows are kept in sheds and fed hay, beets, bran mash and "dairy cakes" composed of a mixture of bran and cotton seed. They are milked twice a day. The morning's milk is shipped to London during the day; the evening milk is delivered at the railway stations at an early hour and is picked up by the express trains during the night. The cans are exposed to various degrees of temperature and to pollution at the farm, at the railway station, in the cars while in transit, and at the milk shops in London.

The bulk of the trade of London is controlled by a dozen large wholesale companies, each having a monopoly in its district. In the fashionable residence sections of the city may be found small dealers who handle the products of special dairy farms in Devonshire and elsewhere and supply rich families at high prices. These small dealers control perhaps 20 per cent. of the entire trade. The large supply companies have open wagons or carts at all the railway stations before daylight every morning to receive the milk cans upon their arrival and to haul away those which have accumulated during the night.

The retail delivery begins as it does in this country by daylight in the morning, and in the thickly settled sections is carried on by hand-carts. Each man has his route and is responsible for the returns from whatever amount of milk may be furnished him. He is paid in the form of a commission upon the collections. A man with two cans in a pushcart will serve the inhabitants of several blocks who, hearing his cry, brings pails, cups, pans, pitchers, jars and other receptacles to be filled by dipping into the cans. Very little milk is served in bottles, and the cans in which it is delivered are the same that come in over the railways from the farms. In the suburbs milk is served the same way, except the carts are drawn by horses instead of by men.

Nearly 30 per cent of the entire supply is furnished to the public through dairy shops, of which there are 9,204 in Greater London. These shops keep butter, eggs, cheese and sometimes dressed poultry, in addition to milk, which they sell over the counter to casual customers or deliver by their own errand boys to families in the neighborhood in tins or bottles. It is customary for many London housekeepers to send a maid or some other servant to the nearest milkshop every morning for milk or cream enough for breakfast, in addition to the regular supply received from the milkman which they use for cooking purposes.

MORE STATES NEEDED.

For Which to Name the American Battleships.

Washington, May 8.—President Roosevelt has under consideration the naming of the battleships of the Dreadnaught type, for which contracts will soon be awarded. The ships will be given names of states according to custom. Most of the states have been honored already, but there remains Delaware, Utah, North Dakota and New York that have no war vessels named for them. New York is eliminated for the reason that there is an armored cruiser named for the city of New York. When Oklahoma qualifies as a state it will give the navy department one additional name to draw upon. While no action was taken today, it is thought likely that Delaware, the second smallest state in the Union, will be honored by having one of the greatest battleships named for it, and that Utah will be the other state to be so honored. An effort has been made to induce the president to authorize the renaming of the cruiser New York and to call one of the new battleships after that state, but it is not probable that the movement will succeed. Eventually the war vessels of types smaller than battleships of the first class must be renamed if the present plan is carried out.

Daily Thought.

When will we learn that it is not the number of hours we work but the efficiency of the work done that counts? Many of us would accomplish much more in two or three hours of vigorous, effective work, when the mind is fresh and resourceful, than we could accomplish in an entire day with the whole system out of tune.—"Success Magazine."

ALL IS HARMONY.

Notwithstanding efforts of the opposition press to stir up discord, harmony appears to be the irresistible tendency of the Republican party in Kentucky this year, and the state convention next month will be nothing more nor less than an exchange of experiences and a conference for the good of the cause, resulting in the selection of men who will strengthen the ticket in all sections of the state.

There now appears to be no doubt of the nomination of Hon. Augustus E. Willson, of Louisville, for governor. He has all the personal qualifications for an ideal candidate and a successful executive. There was only one question involved in the consideration of his candidacy, would he please all elements in Louisville? and Louisville has answered that question in the affirmative.

Mr. Willson has stamped the state and made a fine impression by his platform skill, his appearance and strength of mind. At home he stands high in the estimation of the party. He aspires to the honor of leading the ticket, not from mean motives, but from those commendable desires of the heart, close kin to patriotism, which lead men, fitted for the trust, into the pathway of public service.

The fact that he desires the office, if the nomination comes to him in such a way that he may accept it with dignity, adds strength to Mr. Willson's candidacy. Men, who aspire, work, and it is at moments when hopes are high, that the party demands work of her candidates. Mr. Willson will not only work, but he will work effectively, and he will be in a position to command the heroic efforts of all the party leaders the state over, and have behind him such an organization as the party never before had in Kentucky.

Probably Senator Cox, once strongly urged as a gubernatorial possibility, will be tendered the nomination for lieutenant governor. He has had legislative experience, and led the minority forces effectively in the senate. He would preside over that body in a manner to do honor to his party.

If Judge James Breathitt can be induced to accept the nomination for attorney general, the foremost lawyer of the western Kentucky bar will be placed on the ticket and add a thousand Democratic votes to the Republican column in the Purchase next November.

Then, with Captain Ed Farley, the old wheel horse of Republicanism, as candidate for state treasurer, with his immense local popularity, the party would be in a position to cut down the Gibraltar majority to such an extent that it could easily be overcome in other parts of the state. Local Republicans, having a candidate for state office, should get together and make a fight for his nomination.

OUR PART.

Now that McCracken county immigration is started, there is a responsibility resting on the citizens to foster the movement, which is setting in our way. One of the Germans, who purchased land in this county, has gone back to Austria to induce others to follow. There should be some means provided for caring for these immigrants, and every sort of hospitality should be extended to them until they are able to look out for themselves. Humanity and selfishness combine to urge this point. These people are strangers. Our ways are new to them, and they are far from their friends who can speak their language and meet their wants. First impressions count. If these people like McCracken county they will write home to others and a steady stream of immigration will come this way. If they become disheartened or offended, we shall be in a worse condition than before the agent was sent to Europe. We shall have a number of immigrants writing back to Germany and Austria advising others to avoid this section, and we shall have an agent traveling through those foreign countries, to our detriment. The advantage of increasing our population with a thrifty race of agriculturalists, used to intense farming in a thickly populated community, is too easily comprehended to be refuted, and our part in developing McCracken county consists simply in encouraging them to come.

WHENCE TUBERCULOSIS?

Experts Discuss Methods of Entrance Into Human Body.

Washington, May 8.—Tuberculosis from bovine and other germs vs. infection through human germs was discussed at length today at the meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in its third annual session here.

Dr. Charles Hunter Dunn, of Boston, had for his subject "Recent Advances in the Knowledge of Tuberculosis in Children." He said in early life tuberculosis did not affect the lungs as it did in the case of the adult, but frequently remained hidden in the internal glands in children until an acute form of tubercular meningitis or pneumonia caused death.

He declared that children have no power of resistance against these acute outbreaks, and that small babies showed no tendency toward the healing of the lesions.

Coming to the sources of tubercular infection he mentioned the various theories that it was congenital, due to dust or moist sputum, and said that while there was truth in all of them, the commonest source was house contagion from tubercular surroundings.

In the order of frequency, he said, tuberculosis entered the body through the lungs, through the intestines or through the tonsils and the pharynx and locates itself in the nearest glands. In diagnosing latent forms of the disease he said that the X-ray was the most important means of discovering it.

MANUSCRIPT

FOUND BY ADMIRERS OF IBSEN AND WILL BE CHERISHED.

Original of One of His Plays Is Considered a Treasure By Its Possessor.

Christiania, May 8.—Admirers of the late Henrik Ibsen are delighted at the remarkable discovery of voluminous important manuscripts written before 1864. The works include a complete epic poem of twenty thousand words in which is found fragments and the nucleus, from which afterwards developed Ibsen's dramatic works, especially one of the greatest of his works, the drama "Brand."

When Ibsen left Rome, in 1864, he deposited two large bags containing manuscripts in the rooms of the Scandinavian association of Rome. The bags were shelved and forgotten, and the society, leaving the premises later, were sold later with a lot of rubbish. Ibsen returned to Rome and vainly inquired for them, and came to the conclusion they had been destroyed.

A Dane named Pontoppiddjan, living in Rome, found the manuscripts at an antiquarian's many years ago and kept them as curiosities. He returned to Copenhagen several years after the discovery, where he died, bequeathing the manuscripts to the Royal Library, on condition that they be published by a friend, Prof. Carl Larsen, a prominent Danish author.

Ibsen's illness prevented Larsen consulting him about the publication, and now he has obtained the permission to do so from Ibsen's heirs. Ibsen's editor, Swanstrom, told the Associated Press a history of the manuscripts will soon appear, which has a parallel in the episode of Leovborg in "Hedda Gabler."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Carpenters' Strike.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Feeling that the public is being misinformed in many respects as to the little unpleasantness that now exists between the carpenters and contractors of the city, if you will permit me I will tell your readers the true situation:

In the outset I will say that the cost of living, as all well know, has increased at least 25 per cent. In the past 12 or 15 months. The reason the carpenters want more pay is to meet this increase in the cost of feeding their families. No one should object to this. Is it possible for the contractors to grant this 2 1-2 cents per hour increase (only 20 cents per day, or $1.20 per week)? Lumber has increased, the contractors pay the increase; hardware of every description has increased, they pay this. How? By bidding a little higher on a contract. Why should they balk on the men behind the guns, when their wives and little children are dependent entirely upon the product of their toil for their livelihood.

The following brief paragraphs may enlighten some one who would like to know the true situation:

1. In order that a man may become a union carpenter he must have served at least three years at his trade, and be recommended by a contractor as competent and able to earn the scale which said contractor has previously signed.

2. The carpenters' union does not now, nor ever did, and never will, ask any contractor to employ a man who is not able to earn the money paid him; neither do they object to the contractor discharging an incompetent workman.

3. The contractors have entire charge of apprentices and are at liberty to pay them what they desire.

4. The contractors want the carpenters "graded" as to their skill as a mechanic, but do not ask any assistance in the "grading." The "grading" must be done by them as to skill and also as to wages paid. Commencing at $3 per day, the minimum scale, asked for, they desire to grade downward, and be given the privilege of working the cheap men on the higher class of work when they desire. This once agreed, to the workman would then be at the mercy of his employer; would he not?

5. It is frequently heard that there are too many "saw and hatchet men" that are being carried by the union, that can't earn the scale." Whose fault is this, if it be true? A man can't get into the union without the consent and endorsement of his union contractor at the time of his application, and more than once incompetent men recommended by union contractors have been turned down by the union when they were known to be incompetent.

Now, Mr. Editor, in all fairness, I ask the public to get at the truths connected with what promises to be one of the longest drawn out battles between contending parties that Paducah has ever had. Do not listen to idle talk but if there be a question that is not thoroughly understood, any citizen will be welcomed into the carpenters' hall and given the truth on any phase of the situation.

What the carpenters are asking for is indeed very reasonable, and does not compare at all with the increased cost of meat and bread. When the carpenter goes to his groceryman the groceryman prices his goods; when he goes to the dry goods' store he meets the same song; the doctor tells him his bill, and the druggist also remembers him just a little, and at last when he winds up at the undertaker's place of business he prices his box to him; then he is placed in the ground that is also priced to him. Is it asking too much of the right?

CHOP SUEY FRONTS

Chopped Off Because They Overlapped Public Street.

New York, May 8.—Armed with axes and guarded by a squad of 25 policemen a gang of men, directed by Durbin van Vleck, assistant commissioner of public works of Brooklyn, descended upon Surf avenue, the main thoroughfare of Coney Island, today and lopped off every part of any kind of building, stand or sign which extended beyond the courtyard line.

While the indignant owners protested soda fountains were shopped in two, frankfurter stands were torn apart, overhanging signs were pulled down, cane ringing racks and the dozen different catch-penny devices which line the avenue from end to end were piled into trucks and carted away. When the raiding squad had completed its work the avenue looked as though a cyclone had swept through it, tearing away everything nearer than twenty feet to the curb line. At least twenty truck loads of material were hauled off.

ARE YOU HALF SICK?

A Great Number of People Are, At This Season of the Year.

Weather conditions not alone affect business they affect the health of the average person. Take a long siege of inclement weather like we are having and you find a host of half sick people.

Spring days are the days of half sick people—people just sick enough to have little interest in anything, but not ill enough to go to bed. Such a condition calls for attention immediately, or serious results may follow. The liver, stomach, bowels, kidney or blood may not be performing their function properly, just a trifle in disorder, and once corrected you are yourself again.

Osteopathy goes right to the seat of any disorders of this nature, and cures them.

Osteopathy is the one natural treatment in all conditions of stomach, liver, bowel, kidney, skin and blood disorders. Without the use of any medicines with proper diet, with the dry hot air treatment, where indicated the osteopathic treatment is an assured and permanent cure.

I should like to talk to you at any time about the treatment for yourself, or any member of your family, and the best testimonials I can offer you of the treatment are the commendations of Paducah people whom you know well, who have taken the treatment.

Especially is Osteopathy a rational treatment of ailments peculiar to children. Phone me at 1407, or call at my office, upstairs 515 Broadway, and I shall be pleased to consult with you.

DR. G. B. FROAGE.

WILL FLUSH MANHOLES.

Board of Public Works Will Try An Experiment.

Paducah will try the experiment of cleaning manholes with a stream of water, in the hope of washing the deposit back into the sewer. City Engineer Washington does not appreciate the ingenuity of the scheme and endeavored to prove to the board of public works yesterday the futility of trying to wash sediment out of the bottom of a manhole, which was intentionally made a few feet deeper than the level of the sewer in order to catch the sediment, that it might be dug out. The president of the board, however, carried his point and Sewer Inspector Bundesman was ordered to proceed. The president remarked: "It doesn't make any difference how much water we use."

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club is having an attractive Liza Lehman and E. A. MacDowell program this afternoon at the Grace church parish house. Mrs. David M. Flournoy and Miss Jennie Gilson are the leaders.

Charming Organ Recital.

A brilliant success was the organ recital given last evening at the Broadway Methodist church under the direction of Mrs. Samuel H. Winstead. The program was a delightful one and every seat in the big church was filled which testified to the popularity of the recitals and was an incentive to the series which Mrs. Winstead is contemplating. Assisting Mrs. Winstead with attractive numbers on the organ were Mr. H. W. Pilcher, of Louisville; Miss Adah Brazelton, Mr. Will Reddick and Mr. Owen Tuiley. The delightful vocal soloists were: Miss Ethel Calliss, Miss Caroline Ham, Messrs. Robert Scott, Robert Fisher and Richard Scott. The free-will collection was $31.

U. D. C. Chapter.

The Paducah chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held its meeting for May with Miss Helen Alcott, 914 Jefferson street, on Tuesday afternoon. It was a Sam Davis meeting, but some features of the formal program were omitted owing to the absence of Mrs. John L. Webb and Mrs. Frank Coburn, who were to have given a paper and reading. Mrs. Luke Russell made a delightful little informal talk on the young Tennesseean, a hero from the private ranks of the Confederacy, who met death rather than reveal the names of those of the enemy who had aided him and to whom he had pledged secrecy. His life was offered him by his captors in return for his revealing the Union traitors, but he preferred death to breaking his pledged word. Mrs. John U. Robinson, of the Cochran apartments, who is a relative of both Jefferson Davis and Sam Davis, was a guest of honor at the chapter meeting yesterday.

At the business session only routine matters were presented. Mrs. James Koger, president of the chapter, will attend the Confederate veteran reunion at Richmond, Va., May 30-June 4, and it is possible that others of the chapter will go, also. Mrs. Roy McKinney, state president of the U. D. C., is now at Shiloh battle ground attending the unveiling of the monument there.

Delightful ices and cake were served at the conclusion of the business session. The meeting for June will be with Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips at her country place, "Woodlawn."

Train Wreckers at Work.

It seems that train wreckers are still operating between Fulton and Memphis. Two attempts were made to wreck trains yesterday at St. Elmo a small station about seven miles north of Memphis. The wreckers twice set and locked the switch for the passing track, but both times engineers of approaching trains discovered the switch was set wrong and stopped their trains. Officers were sent to the scene to hunt down the miscreants.

COL. POTTER WINS OVER SINGLETON

And Thereby Hangs Tale of One Who Lost His Hold

Trustees Also Proved Emancipation in Choosing School Site—Borrowed Money.

MISS HAM HAS AN OPPONENT.

Colonel Joseph E. Potter, second strongest candidate for mayor in the late Democratic primary, was elected a school trustee in the meeting of the school board last night, to fill the vacancy from the Second ward caused by the resignation on account of bad health, of J. A. Robertson. Colonel Potter had no less a formidable opponent for the position than Gus G. Singleton. His victory, however, over Mr. Singleton, was by a vote of 7 to 3.

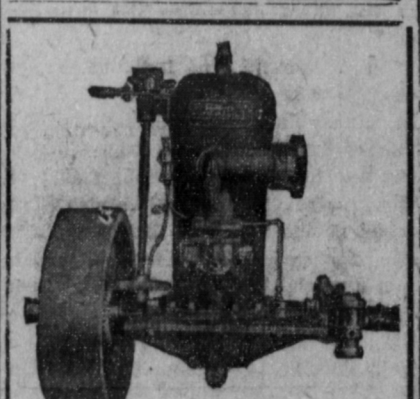

Colonels Potter and Singleton were the only men nominated for the position and both were nominated by Republicans. Trustee Beckenbach startled the board by promptly nominating Colonel Singleton, when Trustee Robertson's resignation was accepted. Trustee Kelley nominated Colonel Potter. The vote showed the humor of the ten members present. It was said in the meeting that Colonel Potter would not accept the position but he was elected notwithstanding.

Incidentally the election of trustee to succeed Mr. Robertson, showed an independence in the board that has been strangely absent since "the late unpleasantness." Mr. Robertson's resignation was accepted with reluctance as he has been a conscientious member. Continued bad health made the resignation advisable, he thought. Taken with the selection of a school site in the southern part of the city, the vote on the election of trustee indicated that Trustee Beckenbach, who by virtue of his leadership of the victorious side in the factional war, had assumed the dominance of the board, was deposed from that somewhat dictatorial position and that the board from now on will be governed by the free actions of the individual members.

The school site favored by Trustee Beckenbach was turned down by the same vote that his nominee for trustee was defeated—7 to 3. Property at Twelfth and Jackson streets was selected as the site for the new south side building, at a cost of $4,625. The lot, which now is occupied by two frame houses, has 121' front feet and 165' depth. Deep hollows cut off approach to it from two sides. Otherwise, judging from the statements of the members, it is a desirable site. President List, Trustee Beckenbach and one other trustee voted for the Lyon property on Clark street.

Work on Building.

Two frame houses on the lot will be sold and will bring several hundred dollars. Realizing the rapid flight of time, the building committee was instructed to meet directly with Fred Hoyer, superintendent of buildings, to arrange the plans and specifications for the new building. President List will call a meeting to ratify their action and everything is expected to be ready to break ground by June 1. The deed to the property will be secured without delay. It is probable that the building will have little architectural beauty. At times the depleted treasury makes the school board miserly in its appropriations, but that it can

A Few Hows Answered By the Instructor.

When the instructors were interviewed at Alvey & List's drug store they were very busy, yet they took time to pleasantly answer a few pertinent questions that may be interesting to the reading public as no remedy for human ailments has created so much talk and newspaper comment throughout the country during the past year as Root Juice. How does Root Juice cure so many troubles? Because unlike most things on the market, it strikes at cause and ignores effect. How does Root Juice cure rheumatism? Because it is very healing to the mucous linings of the stomach and bowels. It also gives health and strength to the liver and kidneys. When the stomach, bowels liver and kidneys work in healthy union, good blood will be made and the old will be filtered. Rheumatism is created by food fermenting in the stomach and bowels and as a result acid will form and get in the blood. Make the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels healthy and you will soon be rid of rheumatism. Why is Root Juice so highly endorsed for female weakness? Because the organs of women like all other parts of the body are fed by blood. Blood is made by the digestive organs and filtered principally by the liver and kidneys. When the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are healthy, good rich blood courses through every blood vessel of the body and nourishes every weak part. How does Root Juice cure catarrh? Because catarrh exists in the blood in the form of a living poison and irritates the weaker parts of the mucous linings. Root Juice removes the poisons through the filtering organs and is also very healing to the mucous linings. As you see Root Juice relieves many symptoms by removing a few causes and giving nature a chance to do the work. Many testimonials were produced from people whose word could not be doubted. Oftentimes one free dose of the great remedy will convince. The instructors are giving free doses to all that call at Alvey & List's drug store, and are proving beyond doubt the wonderful merits of Root Juice.

spend money was illustrated in the adoption of a motion to finish the McKinley building. Three rooms are to be finished at a probable cost of $600. Superintendent Lieb showed the board where there was no prospect of using the rooms in the next year and Trustees Karnes and Clements thought that their limited finances advised the careful expenditure of money where buildings are in direct demand. But by a vote of 7 to 2, the rooms were ordered finished.

Only Borrowed Money.

Every dollar the school board spends now is borrowed money. The miscellaneous bills allowed last night wiped out the last dollar in the treasury. May and June running expenses must be paid with borrowed money, amounting probably to $7,000. However, the money paid out for sites and buildings comes out of the $25,000 received from the sale of the Longfellow building. A note for $2,000 owed on the North Thirteenth street property will be paid off today out of this fund, which with the $4,625 paid on the Jackson street site, will leave $18,000 for buildings. Two are to be built.

Fred Hoyer was re-elected superintendent of buildings at a salary of $75 the month. His work has been satisfactory without exception. This month Mr. Hoyer collected $8.20 from the parents of the boys who broke out windows in the school buildings. The Odd Fellows will sell to the school board, the sanitary conveniences in the Longfellow building, also the heating apparatus. A committee will investigate.

Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis made application for music teacher in the schools. Miss Ham, the present teacher, who has made a success of her first year, will be an applicant. She expects to make a special course at a conservatory this summer.

Part of the McKinley grounds were wanted by a Baptist church as a building site but the board did not care to cut off the playgrounds.

Superintendent Lieb said the attendance had fallen off 200 in the month from measles and bad weather.

Superintendent Lieb asked the board to pay Miss Anna Bird Stewart for substitute work.

NEW STREET WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Board of Public Works Lets Three Contracts

Seventy-Five Alleys Found to Be in Bad Condition and Recommendations Are Planned.

BY BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Nineteenth street and Guthrie avenue, 36 1/2 cents the foot—E. C. Terrell.

Farley place, pavement and driveway, $4,065—H. E. Boswell. South Fourth street, $2,920—George Weikel.

Beginning street improvements which before the end of summer will find the city presenting many new and attractive thoroughfares, three contracts were let yesterday for the improvement of Nineteenth street and Guthrie avenue. E. C. Terrell, contractor, cost 36 1/2 cents a foot; Farley place, pavements and driveway, cost $4,065. R. E. Boswell contractor! and South Fourth street, $2,920, Weikel, contractor.

The bids were received on the first batch of specifications prepared by City Engineer Washington. In the next meeting of the board of public works bids on other improvements called for by ordinances, will be opened and at each succeeding meeting until all the improvements contemplated are contracted for. Bloom and Paxton avenues in the west end, were not considered, the city engineer finding that not as much ground has been given for the streets as promised by the residents.

Complaints of Water.

E. R. Pierce, 1426 Trimble street, in a vigorous letter to the board of works, threatened a suit unless the stagnant water in front of his residence is remedied. City Engineer Washington expects difficulty in draining the lower end of Trimble street but an effort will be made to give relief. The board with Mr. Washington will inspect Nineteenth street between Madison and Trimble streets next Tuesday and then can attend to a number of complaints in the north end. The rains have brought their usual complaints to the board.

Alleys in Bad Shape.

In an inspection of 75 alleys in the city, Street Inspector Elliott reported that nearly all are in a badly run-down condition. The board will make recommendations to the general council along this line.

Much gossip over several horse purchases and trades of Street Inspector Elliott are going the rounds of the city employees and the board put a quietus on some of the talk by

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispels the disease, the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

Meat and Drink to Him.
Professor William Lyon Phelps, of Yale, recently told a story at New Haven's Chamber of Commerce banquet. A hard drinker was told by his doctor that he could be cured if every time he felt that he must have a drink he would immediately take something to eat instead.

The man followed the advice and was cured, but the habit of asking for food had become so fixed with him that once he was nearly locked up as a lunatic. He was stopping at a hotel, and hearing a great commotion in the room next to his, he peeped over the transom to see what the matter was. He saw, and rushed madly down to the office and shouted to the clerk: "The man in 153 has shot himself! Ham and egg sandwich, please!"—April Lippincott's.

CHAPTER XXV.

"I SUPPOSE," the boy said thoughtfully, "I must seem to you beastly ungrateful. You've been a perfect brick to me ever since that night. But I can't help being a bit homesick. You see, it was really the first time I'd ever been away from home for long, and though my little place isn't a patch on this, of course, still, I was born there, and I'm jolly fond of it."

His companion nodded, and his dark eyes rested for a moment upon the other's face. Guy Poynton was idly watching the repeaters at work in the golden valley below, and he did not catch his friend's expression.

"You are very young, non cher ami," he said. "As one grows older one demands change—change always of scene and occupation. Now, I, too, am most hideously bored here, although it is my home. For me to live is only possible in Paris—Paris, the beautiful."

Guy looked away from the fields. He resented a little his friend's air of superiority.

"There's only a year difference in our ages," he remarked.

Henri de Bergillac smiled, this time more expressively than ever, and held out his hand.

"I speak of experience, not years," he said. "You have lived for twenty years in a very delightful spot no doubt, but away from everything which makes life endurable, possible even, for the child of the cities. I have lived for twenty-one years mostly in Paris. Ah, the difference!"

Guy shrugged his shoulders and leaned back in his chair.

"Well, he said briefly, 'tastes differ. I've seen quite all I want to of Paris for the rest of my life. Give me a fine June morning in the country and a tramp round the farm, or an early morning start in September walking down the partridges, or a gray day in November, with a good good undernearly, plenty of grass ahead and hounds talking. Good God, I wish I were back in England!"

Henri smiled and caressed his upper lip, where symptoms of a mustache were beginning to appear.

"My dear Guy," he said, "you speak crudely because you do not understand. You know of Paris only its grosser side. How can one learn more when you cannot even speak its language? You know the Paris of the tourist. The real magic of my beautiful city has never entered into your heart. Your little dabble in its vice and frivolities must not count to you as anything final. The joy of Paris to one who understands is the exquisite refinement, the unsurpassed culture of its aboriginal wickedness."

"The devil!" Guy exclaimed. "Have you found out all that for yourself?"

Henri was slightly annoyed. He was always annoyed when he was not taken seriously.

"I have had the advantage," he said, "of many friendships with men whose names you would scarcely know, but who directed the intellectual tendencies of the younger generation of Parisians. People call us decadents—that, I suppose, because we prefer intellectual progression to physical activity. I am afraid, dear friend, that you would never be one of us."

"I am quite sure of it," Guy answered.

"You will not even drink absinth," Henri continued, helping himself from a little carafe which stood between them, "absolutely the most artistic! I all drinks. You prefer a thing you call a pipe to my choicest cigarettes, and you have upon your cheeks a color of which a playboy should be ashamed."

Guy laughed good humoredly.

"Well, I can't help being sunburnt!" he declared.

Henri sighed delicately.

"Ah, it is not only that," he said. "I wish so much that I could make you understand. You positively cultivate good health—take cold baths and walks and exercises to preserve it."

"Why the dickens shouldn't I?" Henri half closed his eyes. He was a dutiful nephew, but he felt that another month with this cloister of an English boy would mean the snapping of his finely strung nerves.

"My friend," he began gently, "we in Paris of the set to which I belong do not consider good health to be a state which makes for intellectual progression. Good health means the triumph of the physical side of man over the nervous. The healthy animal sleeps and eats too much. He does not know the stimulus of pain. His normal condition is unassuming—not to say bovine. The first essential therefore of life, according to our tenets, is to get rid of superfluous health."

Guy did not trust himself to speak this time. He only stared at his companion, who seemed pleased to have evoked his interest.

"Directly the body is weakened," Henri continued, "the brain begins to act. With the indisposition for physical effort comes activity of the imagination. Cigarettes, drugs, our friend here," he continued, patting the carafe, "late nights, la belle passion—all these—all these—"

He broke off in the middle of his sentence. Simultaneously he abandoned his carefully chosen attitude of studied languor. He was leaning forward in his chair watching a carriage which had just come into sight along the straight wide road which led from the outside world to the chateau.

"The devil!" he exclaimed. "My respected uncle! Jacques!"

A man servant stepped out upon the terrace.

"Monsieur!"

"Remove the absinth, Jacques," M. le Duc arrives."

Guy, who also had been watching the carriage, gave utterance to a little exclamation. He pointed to two figures on horseback who rode behind the carriage.

"The gendarmes!" he exclaimed. "They have come for me at last!"

His face was no longer ruddy. The pallor of fear had crept to his cheeks. A note of despair rang in his voice. His companion only laughed.

"Gendarmes, perhaps," he answered, "but not for you, my young friend. Have I not told you that you are in sanctuary here? A guest of the Vicomte de Bergillac evades all suspicion. Ah, I understand well those gendarmes. Let their presence cause you no anxiety, cher monsieur. They are a guard of honor for my revered uncle and the personage who rides with him."

Guy resumed his chair and sat with his head buried in his hands in an attitude of depression. His companion leaned over the stone balustrade of the terrace and waved his hand to the occupants of the carriage below. They pulled up at the bottom of the steps and commenced slowly to ascend. In obedience to an imperious gesture from his uncle, Henri advanced to meet them. He greeted his uncle with graceful affection. Before the other man, although his appearance was homely and his dress almost untidy, he bowed very low indeed and accepted his proffered hand as a mark of favor.

The Duc de Bergillac was tall, slender, with black mustache and imperial. He possessed all the personal essentials of the aristocrat, and he had the air of one accustomed to command.

"Henri," he said, "your young friend is with you?"

"But certainly," his nephew answered, with a sigh. "Am I not always obedient? He has scarcely been out of my sight since we arrived."

"Very good. You saw us arrive just now. Did you mention the name of M. Grisson?" the vicomte asked.

"But certainly not," Henri answered. The vicomte nodded.

"You have discretion," he said. "M. Grisson is here incognito. He wishes to hear your young friend's story from his own lips."

The vicomte's companion nodded silently. He had the air of a silent man. He was short, inclined to be stout, and his dress and bearing were almost bourgeois. His features were large and not particularly intelligent, his cheeks were puffy and his gray beard ill humored. He had the double neck of the Frenchman of the lower class who has not denied himself the joys of the cuisine, and his appearance would have been hopelessly commonplace but for the deep set brilliant black eyes which lit up his whole face and gave it an aspect of power.

"After déjeuner, you understand," he said. "It is well that your young friend should not understand that I came here for no other reason. I will see first your manuscripts, M. le Duc."

The duke waved his hand courteously to Guy as the two men passed along on their way to the library. Henri resumed his seat with a little shrug of the shoulders.

"My respected uncle will bring such strange people here to see his manuscripts and collection of missals," he remarked. "For myself, it is a hobby which wears me. And you, mon cher

What to do in Dyspepsia

Dieting has become a great fad in America, and just as, years ago, we, as a nation, over-ate, so now we are under-eating. The one is as bad as the other. Man needs food and plenty of it to sustain life and to give strength to compete in this busy world.

It is not, however, the fact that you may eat too much that hurts you, but that you don't digest what you eat. And if that results in dyspepsia you will not cure the trouble by cutting down your food supply. If your digestive organs were creating the proper amount of gastric and peptic juices you would have no dyspepsia. To cure the disease you must create an abundance of these necessary juices.

Can only be done by a reliable tonic laxative, and, as its name indicates, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains the very ingredients needed to do this. Take it regularly for awhile according to the explicit directions on each bottle and you will soon be cured of dyspepsia and any of the accompanying symptoms such as heartburn, sour stomach, bloated stomach, hives, pimples, sallow complexion, wind on the stomach, etc. Every bottle carries with it an absolute guarantee to do what we claim. It is a gentle, pleasant, effective laxative and you will like its taste and be pleased with its action.

One of the great friends of this remedy is Henry Schaffer, a householder in one of the Chicago companies that fought at the battle of Santiago. While in the wet trenches, and eating the hard food of a soldier, he contracted severe dyspepsia and lost weight rapidly. A friend in the regiment called his attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he began to use. It not only cured his dyspepsia but increased his weight 45 pounds.

Your druggist will sell you a bottle at 50 cents or $1 and you will find it worth a hundred times that to you.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the medicine will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentlest yet effective laxative for children, women, and the aged. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin." This product bears purity guarantee No. 17, Washington, D. C.

Guy?"

"I know nothing about them," he answered. "But the gendarmes, Henri? Why did they ride with your uncle's carriage?"

Henri smiled reassuringly.

"The old gentleman," he said, "has something to do with the government, and they were in attendance upon him. You can realize, my friend," he added, "that you are indeed in a republican country. Such people must have the entrée to our houses, even to our table. I presume that you will have the pleasure of taking luncheon with him even."

A manservant came out upon the terrace.

"M. le Duc desires me to say that luncheon is served," he announced.

Henri passed his arm through his friend's.

"Come," he said, "let us go and see if we can amuse ourselves with my uncle's venerable friend. I do not suppose that he speaks English, but I will interpret for you."

A Fine Discrimination.

A Chicago lawyer tells how the most popular man in a Nevada town got into difficulty with a disreputable tough—for a long time the terror of the place—and proceeded to "do him up" in a manner entirely satisfactory to the community at large. It becoming necessary, however, to vindicate the majesty of the law, the offender was brought up for trial on the charge of assault and intent to kill. The case soon went to the jury. When they had been out about two minutes they returned.

"Well, gentlemen of the jury," asked the judge, in a familiar, off-hand way, "what have you to say?"

"If it please the court," responded the foreman, "we, the jury, find that the prisoner is not guilty of striking with intent to kill, but simply to paralyze an' he done it."

So the prisoner was acquitted amid applause.—April Lippincott's.

Fiscal Court Meets and Allows Large Batch of Claims Against the County Funds.

CLERK'S FEES ARE APPEALED

The following allowances were made:

Sheriff Ogilvie, $350 for serving tax notices.

W. C. O'Bryan, $100 for five months' use of old county poor farm.

Supervisor Johnson, $430.30 out of the county road fund.

For committee work, Magistrates Broadfoot, $12; Burnett, $8; Emery, $12, and Blech $21.

redeem him from his sins. That is not the later risen method, and, indeed, the evolution is not quite clear as given. It was a concession of youth to the demands of the public, but he seldom afterwards erred in this direction. The play is regarded by many as his strongest work, because, more than any other, it is intelligible, and the development is at least rational. It is not without some of the perverseness and obstinacy of the author, but we have a sort of Wagnerian drama fetched into modern times, and the author appears as a moralist pure and simple. Generally, he wants his hearers to turn moralists after furnishing them with text and example.—Joseph M. Rogers in April Lippincott's.

Peer Gynt Again.

Because of a recent revival in this country of one of Ibsen's earlier plays, written during the romantic period, some mention must be made of "Peer Gynt," a name much better known by the unusually interesting, though not entirely illustrative, music of Grieg. Here we have Ibsen at his best, in the days when he had not forsaken romanticism, though he was only partially clothed with its mantle. "Peer Gynt" is an exception of egoist hedonism, of the extreme of the epleurean philosophy and all the evils which come in its train. And here, as an exception to his usual rule, he furnishes an antidote. Peer Gynt gives himself up to a life of pleasure, is absolutely sufficient unto himself, caring naught for his duties to society nor the rights of others. Of course, after he has run the gamut, he is pretty well exhausted in every way, and here comes the love of a good woman to will cure in one night—it will always prevent a cold if taken on coming in out of the wet. Delightfully pleasant to the taste. Good for children. Good for everybody.

Gentlemen: Last November I was taken with a severe cold and cough. I used a bottle of standard expectorant and was not benefited in the least; I then tried another standard cough cure, but with no better results than with the expectorant. I was then recommended by a druggist at Covington, La., to try Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and after using one 50c bottle I was completely cured. This testimonial was unsolicited, but you are at liberty to use it in any way you may choose. In my opinion, you have by far the best cough medicine on the market. Yours truly,

This is the unprecedented record of the most wonderful cough medicine on the market.

COUNTY SCHOOLS ARE BEING BUILT

Six to be Constructed This Summer, Four of Which are For the White Pupils and Two for Colored Children

EXAMINATIONS BEGIN FRIDAY.

Contract for the erection of another county school house at Rossington will be let in a few days. This will make the third one under construction, the building at Massac being almost ready for occupancy, and the Mr. Brack Owen went to Carbondale, Mo., to look at the school building to be erected this summer at New Hope. Two colored schools will be built, at Cecil and Woodville. All the buildings are to replace old structures.

The completion of these will make seven new buildings constructed under the administration of County Superintendent Billington. There are 53 in the county.

Friday and Saturday the last examination for county diplomas will be held at Lone Oak by the examiners, M. V. Miller, of the county, and Miss May Ellis, of the city schools.

"THE TRAVELING MAN" IS NOW ON HIS WAY

Will Arrive at The Kentucky Friday Night and Give You Glad Hand.

The sixty odd people who will participate in the performance of The Traveling Man Friday night at The Kentucky are busy putting on the finishing touches and if enthusiasm counts the Paducah public have a treat in store for them.

The music is by far catchier than those usually heard in musical comedies.

The cast is made up of the best talent possible to be found in this city.

Mr. Woolfolk, the author, and Mrs. David Flournoy take the two leading parts.

Miss Nella Hatfield, as the sourette, and Miss Mayme Dryfuss have the other two female roles.

The male roles are taken equally as well with Messrs. Emmet Bagby, as the western fellow; Richard Scott, as the Chappie, Ever Thompson, as the Old Man, and William Brazelton as the drummer.

These four make a quartet of traveling men that could sell vacant space in the Colorado canon.

Messrs. David Yeiser, William Reddick, Douglas Bagby, and Charles Cox are expected to make individual hits, while the pony chorus is a whole show in itself.

The Upper Ten and Village Belles are well named and will only have to act natural to make their parts a success.

All money collected for tickets must be given Miss Sinnott on Ninth street, by Thursday evening.

WILD RUNAWAY

Damages Vehicle, Hurts Driver and Frightens Horse.

Frightened by an approaching switch-engine of the N. C. & St. L. railroad, near the Union station, the horse of Mr. W. B. Walters, the well known real estate agent, ran away and frightened Oscar Miller's horse, causing it to upset the buggy. Mr. Walters had a narrow escape from death and was fortunate to escape with nothing more than a few minor cuts and bruises. After letting Mr. C. E. Jennings out, Mr. Walters had driven a few yards when the horse suddenly shied and wheeled around. As the horse lunged Mr. Walters was thrown out alighting on his back in the street. He pluckily held to the reins and the horse dragged him several feet over the gravel. On Mr. Walters releasing his hold the horse diverted from the street and began a wild run over the tracks in front of the depot. One wheel was torn off and the buggy otherwise scratched.

A Visit to Henrik Ibsen.

I was asked while in Munich, says Joseph M. Rogers in the April Lippincott's Magazine, to go with a chance acquaintance to make a call on the dramatist, who was spending the summer in the Tyrol. I was ready for anything, from a tramp in the Harz mountains to a stagger at the sacred precincts of Bayreuth, and so I accepted—not without inward tremors. I concluded that nothing worse than being eaten alive could happen to me, and so I went.

The poet was in his garden when we arrived, and we were shown to his library, while a servant called him. I confess I have never been more astonished at the appearance of any man in my life. For I had not even seen a picture of him. He looked like a cross between a great owl and a jinn. His red face was surrounded by a perfect corona of white hair and beard, which stood out straight from his head and gave him a peculiar, and I was about to say, a most sinister appearance, but that would not be true, for his smile was kindly, and his demeanor pleasant, though not in the least effusive. In the early stages of the conversation, which were either in German or French—with which I had no more than an Ollendorf acquaintance—my friend would stop to interpret what the "master" said, though they were mere commonplaces. Suddenly some topic was sprung, and the two went at each other hammer and tongs, with a swiftness and volubility that was distressing. At the close of the discussion Ibsen smiled and shook hands, and we went out.

Naturally, I was curious to know what the discussion was about, but my friend—a European—was silent, except for ejaculating occasionally in "Amazing!" "It is impossible!" and the like, and that is all I ever got out of him. But I have always had a kindlier feeling for Ibsen and his work ever since, because I could see, on closer inspection, that his face was marked with lines which betokened sorrow and distress. For though he was outwardly calm in the storm that raged about him, he was by no means indifferent to it.

Butte, Mont., May 8.—William Powers, aged 34, who says he came here last week from Sand Point, Idaho, was arrested near Woodville by a sheriff's posse this afternoon, suspected of being one of the men who this morning held up the North Coast Limited on the Northern Pacific near Welch's. He said he meant to board the train at Woodville and beat his way out of the country. He denied all knowledge of the murder and hold-up at Welch's, but he was sent to Butte by the sheriff.

Miner Deposits to Alleged Conspiracy Against the Union.

Webb City, Mo., May 8.—Robert Hulser, a miner, today made a deposition here in the Moyer-Haywood case, swearing before Justice Cresswell, that while in the office of Mine Manager Cornish at Victor, Col., in September, 1903, he heard Cornish say to a present adjutant general of Colorado:

"We have Moyer where we want him and we will put him under the ground."

Hulser says Paymaster Travell said then:

"We have the money and must get Moyer out of the way and break up this miners' union."

Hulser says the military officer said:

"All right, gentlemen, I'll do all I can for you."

German Explorer.

Pekin, May 8.—According to letters just received from Herr Tafel, the German explorer, examination for the priesthood of Tibet, is a severe ordeal, in which the candidates are liable to be forcibly prevented from speaking by the examiner.

Herr Tafel writes that he saw one grotesque ceremony in which the dalai lama examined three candidates who lay flat on their faces before him. A large number of priests were present, and they also prostrated themselves on their faces in token of veneration to the dalai lama.

Each candidate raised his head and replied when a question was asked and then buried his face in the mat again. If a lame reply to a question was given the dalai lama stooped and placed a hand tightly over the candidate's mouth, so that he might not appear ridiculous to his fellow students. If the answer were especially bad, the lama described a circle in the air just above the offender's head as an expression of his contempt for the candidate. Herr Tafel obtained the audience of the dalai lama at the Tibetan monastery of Tsumsum, not far from the Chinese frontier. He is said to have been the first European who has ever been brought face to face with the fugitive lama.

The dalai lama, it will be remembered, fled from Lhasa on the approach of the Younghusband mission, and at first found a refuge at Urga, in northern Mongolia. He was reputed to have left that place last September, and in the following month he passed through Lanchow on his way, it is said, to Kashgar. He was traveling in great state in a large sedan chair carried on horses and with an escort of 200 lamas.
